

Policy Statement

The Scottish Women's Institutes are supporting the International Charity Feed the Mind, which is involved in;

Economic empowerment: strengthening sustainable livelihoods by teaching marginalised adults work, agricultural or business skills.

Health education: improving people's quality of life through education about nutrition, hygiene, reproductive health and HIV & AIDS.

Citizenship: enabling people to access their rights and respect those of others, and participate in decision-making that affects their lives.

The Scottish Women's Institutes is the largest women only membership organisation representing some 16,000 members across the country. It was established as the Scottish Women's Rural Institutes in Longniddry, Scotland in 1917.
